Also described mother loves her children more than herself. She is ready to sacrifice all her joys and comforts for the sake of the children. Q. (b) In his child hood, how did Gavaskar behave while playing cricket matches with his friends? How did they react to his behaviour?

Ans. Gavaskar's behavior was not at all sporting during his earlier playing days. Gavaskar hated losing his wicket. He would walk away with the bat and ball on getting out. The game would end thus and his friends abused him. His friends handled him tactfully. They would decide to appeal in a chorus at some particular ball and he had to go out at the general verdict against him. Thus they made a team and played together. This kind of attitude is very unmatured and children at a young age are a bit arrogant.
